JEMCO

CONTRACTING & ELECTRICAL SERVICES

CONFIDENTIAL

Business Name & Domain Options

Eleven candidate names checked for conflicts in Massachusetts and New Hampshire and for domain availability, with a head-to-head comparison of JS and Senarian, and an October 18 update recording the clearance checks for the chosen name, JEMCO Contracting & Electrical Services. Prepared for Jeff Senarian.

JS Contracting & Electrical Services · October 19, 2026

Update, October 18, 2026: the name is JEMCO Contracting & Electrical Services

The owner has chosen JEMCO Contracting & Electrical Services. This section records the same clearance checks that were run for the earlier candidates: similarly named companies in the region, trademark exposure, registration, and domain availability. The sections after it are the original options analysis and are kept as the record of how the choice was made; the recommendation they contain predates the decision.

The short version. JEMCO is clearer than JS and not as clean as Senarian. No electrical contractor in Massachusetts uses the name. The one conflict that matters is JEMCORP, an electrical and HVAC contractor in Manchester, New Hampshire, about 30 miles away and licensed to work in Massachusetts. An excavation company in Ludlow has held the corporate name "Jemco Contracting, Inc." since 1973, which makes the state's name check the first thing to do. jemco.com is taken; jemcoelectric.com, jemcocontracting.com and jemcoelectricalservices.com are available.

Similarly named companies

Company	Where	From Westford	What they do	Status and impact
JEM Electrical & HVAC Corp., trading as JEMCORP	Manchester and Londonderry, NH	about 30 mi	Electrical and HVAC contractor, commercial, industrial and residential; telecom sites and EV charging; founded 2006 by master electrician Jason Murphy; licensed in NH, MA, ME and VT; jemcorpelectrical.com	Active. The closest conflict: one letter from JEMCO, the same trade, and licensed in Massachusetts. Confusion is plausible with suppliers, inspectors and in search results.
Jemco Builder & Developer, Inc. (with Jemco Building Enterprises, Inc., inactive, and Jemco Properties, LLC, active since 1998)	Londonderry, NH	about 25 mi	Home builder and property company	Listed with the BBB; little web presence. Overlaps the "contracting" half of the name in a neighboring market.
Jemco Contracting, Inc.	Ludlow, MA	about 70 mi	Excavation contractor since 1973; a Massachusetts corporation with a DOT carrier registration	Active. An exact match on "Jemco Contracting" on the Massachusetts corporate records (see Registration below). Different trade; no website found.

Company	Where	From Westford	What they do	Status and impact
Jemco Disposal, Inc.	Plainville, MA	about 45 mi	Waste hauling	Active. Different trade; negligible.
JEMCO Electrical Contractors, Inc.	Jamaica, Queens, NY	about 200 mi	Union electrical contractor founded 1990, roughly 30 to 200 employees, public-agency work	Active. Not in the market, but it holds the first page of Google for "JEMCO electrical" and almost certainly jemcoelectrical.com.
Jemco, Inc.	Ijamsville, MD (one directory also shows a Boston address)	not local	Subcontractor, established 1961	Appears to be Maryland only; the Boston listing looks like a directory error.
JEMCO Incorporated	Massachusetts	n/a	Former name of a pizza-shop corporation, inactive	No current conflict; shows the word has been on the state's records before.

Trademark

No live federal registration for JEMCO turned up in the trademark aggregators. A Malaysian excavator-parts company's "JSB / Jemco Sdn Bhd" application was abandoned, JEMCORP Ltd. of Ontario has filings of its own, and "JEM" has been registered since 1978 for electric energy meters, which is a different mark on different goods. The USPTO database itself could not be reached from here, so the direct search is still required. Unlike "JS" or "Mass Electric", JEMCO is a coined word, so it can be protected once it is in use. The nearest prior users in this trade, JEMCO Electrical Contractors in New York since 1990 and JEMCORP in New Hampshire since 2006, have common-law rights in their own markets. That does not prevent use in Massachusetts, but it argues for filing the logo (the name with the lightning bolt) as a design mark rather than the bare word.

Registration

Jemco Contracting, Inc. is an active Massachusetts corporation. The Secretary of the Commonwealth requires a new LLC name to be distinguishable from names already on file. "JEMCO Contracting & Electrical Services LLC" adds three words and in practice is likely to be accepted, but it is the examiner's call. Two ways to take the risk off the table: file the entity as JEMCO Electric LLC (or JEMCO Electrical Services LLC) and register "JEMCO Contracting & Electrical Services" as its d/b/a with the town clerk; or reserve the full name first ($30 for 60 days), which gets the state's answer before anything is printed.

Domains

Domain	Status, October 18, 2026	Role
jemco.com	Taken

Domain	Status, October 18, 2026	Role
jemcoelectrical.com	Taken (most likely the New York contractor)
jemcoelectric.com	Available	Recommended primary: short, says the trade, easy to say on the phone
jemcocontracting.com	Available	Redirect to the primary; protects the first half of the name
jemcoelectricalservices.com	Available	Redirect; catches the New York spelling jemcocontractingandelectrical.com	Available	Optional: the full name, for print where the whole name is wanted
jemcoma.com	Available	Optional regional short form
jemco.co, jemco-electric.com, jemcoelectric.net	Available	Defensive

Email becomes office@jemcoelectric.com. The website, sitemap and schema are already set to www.jemcoelectric.com and change in one place if a different domain is bought. Availability comes from the domain-suggestion service, so the registrar check comes first.

How JEMCO compares

- Against JS. Fewer and less direct conflicts. JS had twelve similarly named electrical companies in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, four inside 30 miles. JEMCO has three "Jemco"-type companies inside 30 miles (JEMCORP, Jemco Builder & Developer, Jemco Properties), and only JEMCORP is in the same trade. A coined word is also protectable where initials are not.
- Against Senarian. Not as clean. Senarian had no conflicts anywhere and the exact .com. JEMCO carries the JEMCORP and Jemco Contracting items above, and the .com is taken.
- The deciding factor is JEMCORP: a Manchester electrician with a nearly identical name who is licensed in Massachusetts. It does not block the name, but it is the one competitor to watch, and the reason the domain, the Google Business Profile and the truck lettering should always carry the full name rather than "Jemco" alone.

Next steps for this name

1. Confirm jemcoelectric.com and the redirects at a registrar and buy them.
2. Run the Massachusetts entity search, then reserve the name or file the LLC (with the JEMCO Electric LLC fallback ready).
3. Run the USPTO search for JEMCO; once the name is in use, consider filing the logo as a design mark.
4. Claim the Google Business Profile under the full name, with the roofline logo, as soon as the business phone number exists.

Recommendation

Written October 12, before the decision, and kept as the record of the analysis.

Rename the company Senarian Contracting & Electrical Services and build it on the domain senarian.com. The name is the only candidate that is personal, completely unclaimed and ownable across every domain that matters, and it matches the plan's core promise: the owner on every job. The runner-up is 495 Electric & Contracting if a regional name is preferred, and Galvani Electric & Contracting if the Italian heritage angle is preferred.

The current name, JS Contracting & Electrical Services, is legally available and has a workable domain, but the head-to-head section below shows the cost: twelve similarly named companies in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, four of them within 30 miles, including a one-star "JS Electric" in Nashua and a "JS Electric, Inc." in Wilbraham run by another Jeff. Nothing about "JS" tells a customer who they are hiring, and the exact-match domains are taken.

What was checked, and what still needs a human

Each candidate was searched against business listings, review sites and company websites in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, and against companies nationally that could cause confusion or a trademark problem. Domain availability was checked through a domain-suggestion service on October 12, 2026; a name it offers is available, and a name it withholds is almost always registered.

Three checks must still be done from a browser before any name is final:

1. Massachusetts Secretary of the Commonwealth business entity search (corp.sec.state.ma.us). A new LLC name must be distinguishable from entities already on file. Optional: a $30 name reservation holds a name for 60 days.
2. A registrar confirmation (Cloudflare, Namecheap or Google Domains) before announcing a domain. Availability changes daily.
3. A USPTO trademark search for the chosen word. Descriptive words such as "contracting" and "electrical services" cannot be protected; a distinctive word or a logo can.

What makes a good name for this business

- Memorable on the side of a van and in a neighbor's recommendation.
- Says who or what the company is: the owner, the trade, or the place.
- Ownable: no competitor in the service area with a similar name, and the .com available.
- Distinguishable on the state's records and clear of national brands in the same line of work (EV charging in particular).
- Fits the brand system already built: navy and electric blue, the bolt, the plug, Saira and Barlow type.
- Works for both halves of the business, electrical and remodel contracting.

The options

A. The current name: JS Contracting & Electrical Services

Check	Result
Exact name in use anywhere	No
Similar names in Massachusetts	J.S. Electric, Inc. in Wilbraham (also listed as JS Electric, Inc., Brimfield; owner Jeff Steil), about 70 miles away; JS Contractors, Inc. in Belchertown; J & S Electric Company in Somerville and J.A.S. Electric in Gloucester, both closed
Similar names in New Hampshire	JS Electric in Nashua (claimed listing, one star); J & S All State Contracting (Salem) and J&S General Contractor (Derry), neither an electrician; J & S Electric and J&S Technical Electric in Milton
Domains	jscontractingma.com, jscontractingandelectrical.com and jscontractingelectrical.com available; jscontracting.com, jselectrical.com, jselectric.com, jselectricalservices.com and jscontractingservices.com taken

Pros. Legally clear in Massachusetts. The logo, website and plan are already built on it. Says both trades.

Cons. Initials carry no meaning and are shared with a dozen similarly named companies in the region, detailed in the head-to-head section. The usable domains all need a suffix. A customer who hears "JS Electric" in Nashua finds a one-star listing that is not his.

B. The owner's name: Senarian Contracting & Electrical Services

Check	Result
Name in use anywhere	No business of any kind found under Senarian
Domains	senarian.com, senarian.net, senarian.co, senariancontracting.com, senarianelectric.com, senarianelectrical.com and senariancontractingelectrical.com all available

Pros. Unique in search: Jeff is the only result for his own name. Personal, which is the strongest trust signal in a trade where the owner is on every job. The entire online namespace is open, including the four-letter email jeff@senarian.com. Suggested forms: legal name Senarian Contracting & Electrical Services LLC; wordmark SENARIAN with "Contracting & Electrical Services" beneath it, the same structure as the current JS logo. Surnames can be registered as trademarks once they have been in use.

Cons. Spelling. People who hear the name will try Senerian or Sinarian; the fix is "Jeff Senarian" printed under the logo on the van and the website, and the redirect domains below. A surname brand is slightly harder to sell with the business one day than a neutral name, which matters only if a sale is the long-term plan.

C. Italian heritage with an electrical meaning

Name	Meaning	Domain	Conflicts	Verdict
Galvani Electric & Contracting	Luigi Galvani, the Italian scientist behind "galvanize"	galvanielectric.com available	None found	Best of this group: modern sound, easy to say, a story to tell
Corrente Electric	Italian for "current"	correnteelectric.com available	None found	Warm and distinctive; needs the meaning explained; pronunciation and spelling will vary
Luce Electric & Build	Italian for "light"	luceelectric.com available	None found	Four letters, strong on a truck; Americans read it as "loose" until they hear it
Volta Electric	Alessandro Volta, namesake of the volt	voltaelectric.com taken	Volta Electric operates in California and Washington; Volta Charging is a national EV-charging brand	Avoid: a direct collision with the EV charger line of work

D. Fishing and boating

Name	Idea	Domain	Conflicts	Verdict
Bowline Electric & Contracting	The knot that holds under load and never jams	bowlineelectric.com available	None found	Strong: reliability in one word, modern, unusual; the loop around the bolt is the logo
Striper Electric	The New England fish	striperelectric.com available	None found	Most local and most memorable; a touch playful for large remodel contracts
Hook & Volt	The fish-hook J from Jeff's own logo concept, in words	hookandvolt.com available	None found	Ownable and fun; needs "Electrical & Remodeling" underneath so searchers know the trade
Fathom Electric	Depth, and understanding	fathomelectric.com available	None found	Modern; the boating link is subtle to non-boaters
Tackle Electric, Keel Electric	Good words	Both .com domains taken		Dropped
Helm Electric, Anchor Electric		helmelectric.com taken; Anchor Electric common everywhere	Helm Electric exists in Illinois, Michigan and Georgia	Dropped

E. Regional

Name	Domain	Conflicts	Verdict
495 Electric & Contracting	495electric.com available	None found; 128 Plumbing proves the highway-number model locally	The one regional name that is open: the 495 belt is exactly the territory and the number is impossible to forget. Says where, not who
Nashoba Electric	nashobaelectric.com available	No electrician, but Nashoba is on dozens of local businesses, including Nashoba Heating & Cooling in Westford	Available but blends in
Forge Village Electric	forgevillageelectric.com available	Prime Electrical and Nashoba Heating & Cooling are on Forge Village Road	Rooted in Westford, but anchored to one town
Merrimack Valley Electric	merrimackvalleyelectric.com available	Merrimack Valley Electrical Corp. is in Chelmsford	Avoid: a competitor in the service area owns the name
Minuteman Electric	minutemanelectric.com taken	Minuteman Electric in Billerica serves Concord, Carlisle and Acton	Avoid
Bay State Electric, Middlesex Electric, Two Rivers Electric	Taken	Bay State Electric is in Peabody	Avoid

F. The positioning as the name

Name	Domain	Conflicts	Verdict
Wire & Wall	wireandwall.com available	None found	Says both trades in three words, straight from the plan's line "one crew for the wiring and the walls"; plain words are weak for trademark and it needs "Electrical & Remodeling" beneath it

Head to head: JS versus Senarian

JS Contracting & Electrical Services is the name on the table today, so this section compares it directly with Senarian Contracting & Electrical Services on the two things that decide it: how many similarly named companies already exist in the region, and what each option costs to own online. The short version: twelve JS-type names turned up in Massachusetts and New Hampshire, four of them within 30 miles of Westford, including a one-star "JS Electric" in Nashua; no business anywhere uses Senarian.

Similarly named companies in the region: the JS option

Distances are approximate road miles from Westford. "Status" is what public listings show as of October 12, 2026.

Company	Location	Distance	Trade	Status	What it means for JS
JS Electric	Nashua, NH	15 mi	Electrician	Claimed Yelp listing, 1.0 stars (one review); MapQuest shows a one-star review from April 2025 and one positive review; no website or license number found	Inside the service area with the same name and a bad review. A customer in Tyngsborough or Nashua who searches "JS Electric" finds this one first
J & S Electric Company	Somerville, MA	30 mi	Electrician	Closed; listings persist on Yelp and The Blue Book	Dead business, live listings that still answer a "JS Electric" search in Middlesex County
J&S All State Contracting	Salem, NH	22 mi	General contractor since 1979	Active, with a website	Not an electrician, but "J&S Contracting" is one letter from "JS Contracting" on a referral
J&S General Contractor (Granite State Contractor)	Derry, NH	27 mi	Exterior contractor for condos and HOAs	Active	Same as above, at the edge of the territory
J.A.S. Electric	Gloucester, MA	45 mi	Electrician	Closed; Yelp listing persists	Minor
JS Contractors, Inc.	Belchertown, MA	65 mi	General and roofing contractor since 2000	Active, BBB accredited	Already on the Massachusetts registry as "JS Contractors, Inc."; JS Contracting & Electrical Services LLC should still be distinguishable, but the state decides
J.S. Electric, Inc. (also listed as JS Electric, Inc. and Steil Electric)	Wilbraham and Brimfield, MA	70 mi	Electrical contractor, 29 years	Active; website jeffsteilelectric.com; owner Jeff Steil	A second "Jeff" running "JS Electric" in Massachusetts. Statewide searches, supplier accounts and the registry will mix the two up

P J's Electrical	Wilbraham, MA	70 mi	Electrician	Active	Loose match
J & S Electric	Milton, NH	75 mi	Electrician since 1993	Active, NH licensed	Outside the territory; shows in New Hampshire searches
J&S Technical Electric	Milton, NH	75 mi	Commercial electrician since 1987	Active	Outside the territory; shows in New Hampshire searches
JS Electrical, LLC	Plainville, CT	95 mi	Electrical and generator contractor	Active, with a website	Outside the region, but it owns the "JS Electrical" search results across New England
J's Contracting	North Adams, MA	115 mi	Flooring	Active	Minor

Four of these are within 30 miles, and the one that matters most, JS Electric in Nashua, is the kind of listing a new company cannot fix: it will sit beside Jeff's Business Profile in map results for the northern half of the territory with a one-star rating that is not his.

Similarly named companies: the Senarian option

Company	Location	Status
None found	Massachusetts, New Hampshire, or anywhere else, in any trade	The name is unused as a business name and as a domain

The JS domain option, made concrete

If the company stays JS Contracting & Electrical Services, the exact-match .coms are gone and the purchase looks like this:

Domain	Status	Role
jscontractingma.com	Available	Recommended primary: the shortest option that is easy to say on the phone and paint on a van; email jeff@jscontractingma.com
jscontractingandelectrical.com	Available	Redirect: the full name, exactly as written jscontractingelectrical.com	Available	Redirect: the full name without "and"
jselectricalwestford.com	Available	Optional redirect for "JS Electrical" searches in town
jscontracting.co, jscontractingco.com	Available	Optional; .co addresses get typed as .com and lost

Domain	Status	Role
jscontracting.com, jselectrical.com, jselectric.com, jselectricalservices.com, jscontractingservices.com, jsces.com	Taken	Not available at any price short of buying from the owner

Three domains, about $30 to $45 a year. Every JS domain carries the same problem in a different form: the memorable ones are taken, and the available ones need a suffix ("ma", "and electrical") that customers will forget or mistype, which sends them to jscontracting.com and whoever owns it.

The comparison

Factor	JS Contracting & Electrical Services	Senarian Contracting & Electrical Services
Exact or near-exact names within 30 miles	4 (JS Electric Nashua, J & S Electric Somerville, J&S All State Salem, J&S General Derry)	0
Similar names in Massachusetts and New Hampshire	12 found	0
Who owns the search results today	JS Electric (Nashua, one star), Jeff Steil's JS Electric (Wilbraham), JS Electrical LLC (Connecticut)	Nobody; Jeff would be the only result from day one
Primary domain	jscontractingma.com (exact-match .coms taken)	senarian.com (exact match)
Email	jeff@jscontractingma.com	jeff@senarian.com
Domain cost, year one	About $30 to $45 for three	About $40 to $60 for four
Massachusetts registry	Likely distinguishable, but near "JS Contractors, Inc." and "J.S. Electric, Inc."	Clear
Tells the customer who they are hiring	No; initials	Yes; the owner's name
Spelling and pronunciation	Easy	Needs the name printed under the logo and the redirect domains
Trademark strength	Weak; two letters plus descriptive words	Moderate; a surname with no other users
Brand work already done	Logo, website and plan are built on it	Wordmark re-cut and site regenerated; about a day of work, the rest carries over
Reviews and reputation	Shared with strangers who use the same initials	His alone
Selling the business later	Neutral name is easier to transfer	Surname is slightly harder to transfer

Factor	JS Contracting & Electrical Services	Senarian Contracting & Electrical Services
Overall	Workable, but he inherits other people's listings and a Nashua one-star rating	Clean start, one spelling hurdle

The two columns differ mostly on one point, and it is the one that compounds over time: every review, listing, permit and referral under "JS" is shared with a dozen other companies, while every one under "Senarian" is his. The rebrand cost is a day of work now; the shared-name cost is paid on every search for as long as the company exists.

Scorecard

Five points each; 25 is the maximum.

Name	Memorable	Says who or what	Ownable online and locally	Fits the brand	Both trades	Total
Senarian Contracting & Electrical Services	4	5	5	5	5	24
495 Electric & Contracting	5	4	5	4	4	22
Galvani Electric & Contracting	4	3	5	5	4	21
Bowline Electric & Contracting	4	3	5	5	4	21
Striper Electric	5	3	5	4	3	20
Wire & Wall	5	4	4	4	5	22
JS Contracting & Electrical Services	2	3	3	5	5	18

Wire & Wall scores well on the numbers but loses on trademark strength and on sounding like a trade rather than a person; Senarian wins because the business is Jeff, and the plan sells exactly that.

Domains, in order

Domain	Status	Use
senarian.com	Available	Primary website and email
senariancontracting.com	Available	Redirect: what people type after seeing "Senarian Contracting"
senarianelectric.com	Available	Redirect: what people type after hearing "Senarian Electric"

Domain	Status	Use
senarian.net	Available	Defensive registration
senarianelectrical.com, senariancontractingelectrical.com	Available	Optional; nobody will type them

Four domains cost roughly $40 to $60 a year in total. Register them the same day the name is chosen; nothing holds a domain but buying it.

Next steps

1. Confirm senarian.com and the three redirects at a registrar and buy them.
2. Search the Massachusetts business entity database for "Senarian"; reserve the name for $30 if the LLC will not be filed within a few weeks.
3. Run a USPTO search for "Senarian"; file a trademark for the logo once it is in use (about $350 per class).
4. File the LLC as Senarian Contracting & Electrical Services LLC; add a business certificate with the Westford town clerk only if any shorter form of the name will appear on invoices or the van.
5. Use the legal name, spelled identically, on the master electrician license record, the Home Improvement Contractor registration, insurance certificates, Google Business Profile, the website and the van.
6. Rebrand the existing package: the JS monogram becomes a Senarian wordmark with the same bolt and plug, the website regenerates with the new name, domain, email and schema, and the business plan and financial model update to match.
